ALABAMA PRESIDENT DR. JUDY L. BONNER

Dr. Judith L. Bonner was named the 28th president of The University of Alabama on November 1, 2012. Founded in 1831, the University is the state's flagship and a student-centered comprehensive research university.

Dr. Bonner served as interim president from March 5 until August 31, 2012. She was promoted to executive vice president and provost on April 1, 2006, after serving as provost and vice president for Academic Affairs since March 2003.

During Dr. Bonner's tenure as provost and president, the University underwent transformational change growing from just over 19,000 students in 2003 to more than 34,800 students in 2013. Each year, the academic strength of the student body and the faculty exceeded the record set the previous year.

Under her leadership as president, the Shelby Science and Engineering Quad has been completed and plans to transform the Peter Bryce campus into a vibrant new academic area are underway.

In addition, UA's athletics programs have excelled in recent years with several teams winning national championships.

Dr. Bonner joined the faculty at The University of Alabama in 1981 as associate professor and head of the department of human nutrition and hospitality. She served as assistant academic vice president from 1985-1990 and as special assistant to the president from 1989-1991.

Promoted to professor in 1988, she was named dean of the College of Human Environmental Sciences in 1989 and held that position until 2003.

Prior to coming to UA, she held faculty appointments in the department of pediatrics at UAB and the department of medical dietetics at The Ohio State University.

Dr. Bonner earned her bachelor's and master's degrees from The University of Alabama and her Ph.D. from The Ohio State University, all in nutrition. Her research focused on nutritional needs of chronically ill children and on eating disorders, and has resulted in numerous publications.

Dr. Bonner is an active member of civic, scientific and professional organizations. Among other awards and honors, her accolades include the Distinguished Alumni Award from The Ohio State University, the AHEA Leader Award and the award for Outstanding Dietitian for the state of Alabama.

In 1964 and 1965, he served as an assistant coach at the United States Military Academy while serving a two-year military tour. In 1966, he moved on to the University of Tennessee, where he served as an assistant coach under head coach Doug Dickey for four seasons (1966-69) until he was named head coach of the Volunteers in 1970. When he was named head coach, Battle was the youngest head coach in college football at the age of 28.

During his seven-year tenure as head coach (1970-76), Battle's teams went 59-22-2, finished three seasons ranked in the nation's top 10 among five top-20 finishes and won four out of five bowl games. Battle's Tennessee teams won 11 games once (1970) and at least 10 games in three different seasons (1970, 1971 and 1972). His first Tennessee team finished the season ranked fourth in both national polls. His 1971 team finished ranked ninth in both national polls and the 1972 Tennessee squad finished ranked eighth by the Associated Press and 11th in the Coaches' poll.

Battle began a career in the private sector after his coaching career ended. He held various positions within Circle S Industries in Selma, Ala., and served as president of two different companies, as well as vice chairman of the Circle S Holding Company Board. During his six years at Circle S, the organization grew from two companies earning $12 million in annual sales to 10 companies earning $60 million.

Battle founded The Collegiate Licensing Company (CLC) in 1981, and served as president and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) until 2002. He also served as chairman of the board of Licensing Partners International (LPI), which was created in 2001 to represent the licensing interests of non-collegiate sports properties, as well as corporate and entertainment properties.

A 1981 inductee into the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, Battle was inducted as the first member of the charter class of the National Collegiate Licensing Association Hall of Fame in 2000. He was the recipient of the 2005 Paul W. Bryant Alumni Athlete Award at The University of Alabama and was inducted into the International Licensing Industry Merchandisers' Association (LIMA) Hall of Fame in 2008.

Battle received a National Football Foundation award in December 2008 for Outstanding Contributions to Amateur Football. In June 2010, Bill was inducted into the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators' (NACMA) Hall of Fame. He was inducted into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, receiving its Lifetime Achievement Award in 2011. He currently serves on the boards of the Bryant-Jordan Student-Athlete Foundation, The University of Alabama A-Club Educational & Charitable Foundation, the Crimson Tide Foundation, and the National Football Foundation.

Battle's wife, Mary, is a summa cum laude graduate of the University of Texas School of Nursing with a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing. She earned a Master of Science in healthcare administration from the University of Alabama-Birmingham. For many years Mary worked in the healthcare industry both in the clinical setting and for healthcare corporations that developed and managed physician provider networks including the development of strategically significant relationships with payors and business and industry.

Mary currently serves on the Arthritis Foundation National Board of Directors and is the chairperson of the Arthritis Foundation Leadership Council for the Birmingham market. She is also a member of the Volunteer Engagement Task Team for the Arthritis Foundation. In addition, Mary is an inaugural member of the UAB School of Medicine Board of Visitors and is active in fundraising activities for UAB that support research projects targeting more effective treatment for rheumatoid arthritis.

The Battles are part of UAB's Stem Cell Institute Board and are both active in their support of UAB's Department of Rheumatology. In their leisure time, the Battles enjoy life on their ranch in Georgia. Mary is an avid equestrian while Bill enjoys working on various projects around the ranch.

ON YOUR CAMPUS...

ROLL MODELS

Alabama baseball gives back to the community and builds team unity.

The Alabama baseball team spent much of the 2014 fall working out and preparing for the upcoming season, but in their spare time the team was very active in the Tuscaloosa area with numerous community service projects, while also taking part in numerous team-building events and opportunities.

The team visited schools and hosted Halloween and Christmas parties for a number of school-aged children, all a part of head coach Mitch Gaspard's plan of being active and giving back to a community that has supported the Crimson Tide for many years.

"We want to be the most active team on the Alabama campus," Gaspard said. "We put in a lot of hours this fall, supporting the community and local schools. When fans come to watch us play, we want them to see our guys as more than just baseball players. Our support in the community is important. We have a lot of loyal baseball fans in Tuscaloosa and this is our way to give back and thank them for all of their support. We had a busy fall and we will continue to support the community this spring as well."

The baseball team spent numerous hours in the Tuscaloosa community, kicking off the season by welcoming home military veterans to Tuscaloosa. The team traveled to the BamaAir airport to welcome home the city's former soldiers, offering them thanks and praise for their services to our country.

Later in the fall, the team took part in the Athletic Department's yearly Halloween Extravaganza inside the Hank Crisp Indoor Football Facility. The event provides Tuscaloosa youth with the opportunity to dress up and come interact with Crimson Tide student-athletes. The event features sport-specific stations that allow each team to interact closely with the children and help them enjoy an early Halloween.

To build up excitement for the upcoming season, the team headed out to the University's Quad prior to the November 15 football game versus then-No. 1 Mississippi State. The team handed out posters, signed autographs and took pictures with fans, all to help the community see what Alabama baseball players are truly like.

As the holiday break and season neared, the team once again took part in Project Angel Tree and spent an afternoon at the Sprayberry Education Center, where the team hosted a Christmas party for the students and faculty.

HALLOWEEN EXTRAVAGANZA

Near the end of October, the baseball team spent a Monday evening at the Hank Crisp Indoor Football Facility taking part in the Athletics Department's annual Halloween Extravaganza. Each year, athletes from various sports take part in a Halloween celebration for the children of Tuscaloosa, providing the kids a chance to interact with Alabama athletes and take part in sport-specific mini-games and activities.

Project Angel Tree is an organization that partners with the University to ensure that children of incarcerated parents receive gifts during the Christmas holiday. The baseball players teamed up with other sports to help hand out presents to the children in attendance.

Sprayberry is the special education facility for the Tuscaloosa County School System and serves the needs of children in five different programs, including preschool, multiple disabilities, autism, alternative and TARGET, for gifted education.

One of the main things the baseball team focuses on is giving back to others, and using those events as opportunities to also better the bond between teammates. Teamwork and unity are key attributes of the Alabama baseball team, but each season that bond can be strengthened.

A means for building that team unity this season came from a visit to Baseball Country as well as the annual "Battle for the Hammer" event. In both instances, the team split into pairs or teams to compete in athletic events, not necessarily specific to baseball, to earn bragging rights but to also build a sense of comradery within the team.

The Alabama baseball team wrapped up the 2014 fall season with a team Christmas party at Coach Andy Phillips' house. The party acted as a way for the team to wind down the fall and also help spend some quality time together before the spring season began.

WELCOMING HOME TUSCALOOSA VETERANS

On October 1, the baseball players attended the welcoming home celebration for the Tuscaloosa Area War Veterans as they returned to the BamaAir airport. The former soldiers were returning home from a trip to Washington D.C. after being recognized for their war efforts.

SIGNING ON THE QUAD

Prior to the Mississippi State football game on Nov. 15, the team headed out to the Quad for an autograph signing with the Alabama fans. The players signed autographs, took pictures with fans and spent time talking with each person that came to the table, all while handing out the 2015 season posters.

SPRAYBERRY EDUCATION CENTER CHRISTMAS PARTY

For the seventh consecutive year, the baseball team concluded the fall season with a Christmas Party at Sprayberry Education Center. The players brought gifts, signed baseballs and served the children treats during this event. The team led the group in Christmas carols and helped decorate the school's Christmas tree.

BATTLE FOR THE HAMMER

Each year, Alabama baseball competes in a competition called "Battle for the Hammer" as a wrap-up for the fall season. The players split into four teams to compete in various strength events. The annual competition not only provides bragging rights for the winners, but also helps build team unity and mental strength for all involved as the team heads into the spring.

SEWELL-THOMAS STADIUM

Sewell-Thomas Stadium, also known as "The Joe," has been home to Alabama baseball since 1948. The Crimson Tide opened the original Joe in 1948, playing a doubleheader against the Bradley Braves. Today, "The Joe" is being worked on as the team plans to re-open the facility in 2016.

Sewell-Thomas Stadium has served as home for the Crimson Tide baseball team for more than six decades.

Sewell-Thomas Stadium located slightly off Paul W. Bryant Drive in the Alabama Athletics Complex, has played host to six NCAA Regionals, six SEC Playoff series and a pair of exhibition games with the New York Yankees in 1978 and 1984. The Crimson Tide used its home-field advantage to secure a berth in the College World Series in 1996, 1997 and 1999, winning 13 straight post-season home games in one of the most dominant runs in Crimson Tide baseball history.

Alabama has compiled a 1,194-507-2 (.701) all-time record at Sewell-Thomas Stadium since its move to the current site in 1948. The Tide posted a 21-11 (.656) record at home in 2014 and won three of their five Southeastern Conference series, with a sweep of No. 9 Ole Miss, and series wins over NO. 22 Kentucky and Auburn.

Over the past 19 years, Alabama has been almost unbeatable at home, winning 73 of its 96 SEC series. Since 1995, Alabama has won 39 of 52 home series against SEC Eastern Division teams.

A series loss to No. 3 Florida at the end of the 2010 season snapped a 14-series win streak versus Eastern Division schools that dated back to 2005. After going 1-2 in series against SEC Western Division opponents in 2013, Alabama has won 28 of 43 home series, including 14 of its past 20 against West Division foes. Alabama enters the 2014 season having won 34 of its past 45 SEC home series.

In 2009, Alabama earned a home series win over top-ranked Georgia, adding to the Tide's success at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The Crimson Tide has won seven of its eight series against the No. 1 team in the land since 1985, with four of those series wins coming in Tuscaloosa. Alabama owns home series wins over Miami (Fla.) (1985), LSU (2007), Mississippi State (2006) and Georgia (2009) when those teams were ranked No. 1 in the country.

The Tide baseball team has been a success at the gate as well, drawing more than 2,700,000 fans since the first stadium expansion in 1991. Over the past 23 years, Alabama has attracted 2,762,956 fans in 769 all-time openings. The Tide ranked second nationally in attendance from 1999-2002 and set a school record with 211,331 fans during the 2000 season, when every home game was sold out.

Frank Thomas Field opened on March 26, 1948, as a 2,000-seat facility that attracted many overflow crowds in the 1950s and 1960s under Coach Tilden "Happy" Campbell and Coach Joe Sewell. The inaugural game was played on March 26, 1948, with the Crimson Tide beating the Bradley Braves 5-2 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Pitcher Clarence Flack delivered the first pitch at 2:02 p.m., on that afternoon in the Tide's new baseball home. Dick Dill recorded the first hit at Thomas Field and Jack Rutledge swatted the first home run. Flack was the winning pitcher that afternoon for the Tide. Marvin Blemker also pitched and earned what is known today as a save.

Since the inaugural game in 1948, Sewell-Thomas Stadium has seen plenty of changes. The stadium was renamed Sewell-Thomas Field in 1978, honoring former Alabama football and baseball standout and Major League Hall of Famer Joe Sewell. Alabama played the first night game in school history on March 14, 1981, with a 13-8 victory over Western Kentucky.

The ballpark has undergone two major renovations since it was erected in 1947, with the last coming in 1999. There are additional plans for future renovations on both the inside and outside of the stadium.

The original grandstand was completed in time for the 1991 season and the Tide's new ballpark held 2,700 fans. Wesley Construction of Talladega, Ala., built the new facility for $2.1 million and the completion of the permanent grandstand changed the name of the facility to Sewell-Thomas Stadium. In 1996, bleachers were added down the rightfield line to raise the stadium's capacity to more than 4,000 as the Crimson Tide hosted an NCAA Regional for the first time that year.

N.C. Morgan Construction of Tuscaloosa, was responsible for the most recent additions at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The $4-million expansion project, which was completed prior to the 2001 season, involved extending the grandstand down the rightfield line. The addition of 2,000 seats raised the stadium capacity to 6,571 seats. The bench seats that filled the upper level of the grandstand were moved to the new addition. Chairback seats, similar to those in the lower level, were installed in the upper level. The stadium also received three new ticket booths, five new concession stands and five new restrooms for men and women. Two "hawker" stands were added to allow for concession sales in the grandstand.

The players and coaches likewise benefited from the 2001 renovations. The Crimson Tide moved into its spacious clubhouse in 2001. The expansion also included three indoor batting cages and pitching machines, a meeting room, training room, equipment room and coaches offices. A new stadium entrance was created in the fall of 2005 and a new sound system from All Pro Sound was installed prior to the start of the season. The ballpark also received a general facelift with new paint, signs and handrails as part of this $175,000 project.

The most recent changes to Sewell-Thomas Stadium included a renovation to the players locker room, lounge and meeting room. The player facilities were completed in 2010, with the locker room getting maple wood lockers, a flat-screen television and a juice bar. The players lounge includes seating for the entire team, a pool table, additional televisions, and a large trophy case, that displays the team's 14 SEC Regular-Season and seven SEC Tournament trophies.

COACHES AND STAFF

MITCH GASPARD

Head Coach

Sixth Year

LOUISIANA-LAFAYETTE, 1988

Mitch Gaspard returns for his sixth year as the head baseball coach at The University of Alabama in 2015. In his first five years as the head coach of the Crimson Tide, Gaspard led the Tide to back-to-back NCAA tournament appearances in 2010 and 2011 and again in 2013 and 2014. The Crimson Tide made their 24th NCAA Regional appearance in 2014 marking the fourth time Gaspard's teams have reached the postseason in his five years at the Capstone.

In 2014, Gaspard earned the 350th victory of his career, while also claiming his 150th win at Alabama and coaching his 300th game at the helm for the Tide. He reached the 350 win plateau on March 7 when Alabama took down Mississippi Valley State, 8-0. In that same month, Gaspard secured his 150th career victory at Alabama on March 28, taking down ninth-ranked Ole Miss, 7-6, in the series opener. Nearing the end of the season, Gaspard managed his 300th game as the Crimson Tide head coach when Alabama claimed a 15-10 victory at Jacksonville State.

Gaspard has developed his own philosophies on hitting, pitching, defense and ways to build a championship program and one cannot argue with his success. That success is built on a foundation of hard work and high energy, both on and off the field.

"We want to be known as a blue-collar-type team," Gaspard said. "I believe in hard work. We want to work hard in the classroom, during practice and in the games. We want to out-work the teams we play. Our strength and conditioning program is built around mental toughness. When the game is on the line in the ninth inning, we want to be mentally stronger than our opponent. We want the toughness to show in all areas of our team."

Gaspard also wants to translate that mental toughness to translate to the mound.

"The number one goal for us pitching-wise is to command the strike zone. We've got to have that same aggressive style on the mound," Gaspard said. "Throw the fastball, put it where we need it and get tough mentally on the mound, the same as many of our position players."

His focus on pitching really paid off during the 2014 season, as the Alabama staff limited opposing hitters to a lowly .224 average against and maintained a 3.19 ERA for the year. The Crimson Tide staff had three pitchers combine for the program's eight no-hitter in UA history when the Tide took down Mississippi Valley State on March 8. The no-hitter was Alabama's first no-hitter since March 31, 1993, when three players combined for a rain-shortened, six-inning perfect game against South Florida. It marked the first nine-inning no-hitter since 1942.

The 2010 season for Gaspard, his first as the head coach at Alabama, ended with 42 victories and an NCAA Super Regional appearance. Gaspard spent his first season as the head coach instilling that toughness for the Alabama program. The toughness translated into opening the season with a 16-1 record to match the best 17-game start in school history. Gaspard led the Tide to 14 wins over top-25 competition, and the 2010 season wrapped up with the team winning 13 of its final 17 games.

The Tide finished the 2010 season with a 42-25 record, as Gaspard tied the school record for most wins by a first-year coach and became the first Alabama coach to lead his team to an NCAA Regional championship in his first season. One year later, Alabama advanced to the championship game of the 2011 NCAA Tallahassee Regional and then after missing the postseason in 2012, the Tide, which featured four freshmen in the 2013 starting lineup, returned to the NCAA tournament, finishing with a 35-28 record and ranking 29th in the RPI.

In 2014, Alabama made their second back-to-back NCAA Regional appearance under Gaspard, with the Tide advancing to the championship game of the NCAA Tallahassee Regional against Kennesaw State. The 2014 squad finished with a 37-24 record and ranked 24th in the RPI.

Over his first five seasons as the Alabama skipper, Gaspard led the Tide to a 170-139 (.550) record and four NCAA tournament appearances. He has coached one first team

All-American, four freshman All-Americans, has had two national Gold Glove Award winners, three ABCA All-South Region selections, seven All-SEC honorees, five SEC All-Freshman Team picks, one SEC All-Defensive team recipient, and 58 players earn SEC Academic Honor Roll recognition.

Gaspard has assembled a high-energy coaching staff with a deep passion for the game and deep passion for the Crimson Tide program. That spirited energy fostered by the coaching staff paid dividends in 2011, as the Tide fought its way to a 35-28 record and was ranked in the top-25 for several weeks, before playing in the championship game of the NCAA Tallahassee Regional against No. 6-ranked Florida State.

Assistant coaches Dax Norris and Andy Phillips were All-America players for the Crimson Tide in the 1990s. Norris, the team's pitching coach, played two years at Alabama in 1995-96, earning first team All-American honors in 1996. Phillips, currently the hitting and infield coach for the Tide, was a four-year letterwinner for Alabama from 1996-99. After his All-American season in 1999, Phillips went on to play professionally for 11 seasons, including five in Major League Baseball with the New York Yankees, Cincinnati Reds and New York Mets.

Gaspard has learned from some of the best in the business. He comes from a coaching tree that is a virtual Hall of Fame. His 27-year coaching career has included playing and working for some of the best in the game, such as former LSU coach Skip Bertman, former Houston coach Bragg Stockton, and Jim Wells, the former Northwestern State and Alabama skipper.

After graduating from Port Arthur-Jefferson High School, where he led the team to a state title and earned all-state honors at shortstop, Gaspard played one season for Bertman at LSU. He transferred to Houston in 1986 and finished his career with the Cougars. Stockton offered Gaspard his first coaching job and he spent

The Gaspard family, Brae, Paeton, Mitch and Kim.

Mitch Gaspard guided the Tide to the NCAA Regional in four of five years as the head coach at Alabama. His first season as the Tide's skipper (2010) resulted in an NCAA Super Regional finish and 42 wins, a record for a first-year coach at the Capstone.

one year at Houston, before moving on to the University of Louisiana-Lafayette for the next three seasons. From 1989-92, the Ragin' Cajuns won three straight conference titles and played in three NCAA Regionals.

During Gaspard's days as an assistant coach for Wells at NSU, the Demons won Southland Conference titles in 1993 and 1994 and posted their first NCAA tournament win in NCAA Regional play in 1994.

Gaspard was a pivotal figure as an ace recruiter and shrewd tactician during the remarkable revival of the Crimson Tide in the 1990s. Alabama had four SEC wins in 1994, but after Gaspard arrived the Tide won the SEC Tournament and was one win away from the College World Series in 1995. By the time Gaspard returned to NSU as the head coach in 2002, Alabama had earned six NCAA Regional appearances and three CWS berths, including a national championship game loss to LSU in 1997.

In his first seven seasons as an assistant coach at Alabama, Gaspard helped mold the Tide into one of the nation's finest defensive units. Alabama set numerous school records and ranked among the nation's top-10 fielding teams twice in his tenure.

Gaspard was the chief recruiter for Alabama during that 1995-2001 span. In each of his first five seasons, Alabama ranked among the nation's top-20 recruiting classes, including three straight top-10 classes according to Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball.

Gaspard got his first head coaching position at Northwestern State in 2002 and compiled a 210-138 (.604) record in his six-year tenure. During that time, he led the Demons to a pair of Southland Conference championships, one SLC Tournament championship and a berth in the 2005 NCAA Baton Rouge Regional, where he led the Demons to the program's second NCAA tournament victory.

After the 2007 season, Gaspard returned to Alabama, where he reunited with Wells. After two years as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator, Gaspard helped the Tide regain its baseball momentum and ultimately was named the Tide's 30th head coach on Sept. 2, 2009, after Wells' retirement.

"It's the ultimate for me and I'm extremely excited and honored to take over the program and move forward and strengthen where we're at right now," Gaspard said the day he was announced as the Crimson Tide head coach. "I consider Alabama to be the greatest university. We play in the greatest conference and against the best competition that there is in the country in college baseball."

Gaspard married Kim Howell in 1988. They have two daughters, Brae and Paeton.

CREDENTIALS

Gaspard has enjoyed success at every level of his baseball career as a player, assistant coach and head coach. The sixth-year Crimson Tide head coach has been in the dugout for more than 1,800 games and his teams have compiled a 1,221-669-3 (.645) overall record, including a 380-277 (.578) record as a head coach. Those teams have won 10 conference championships and nine conference tournament titles, while playing in 18 NCAA Regionals and three College World Series. Gaspard has played or coached 17 teams that have won 40 or more games and three teams with 50-plus wins in a season.

THE COACHING TREE

Gaspard has been associated with some of college baseball's top coaches, including Skip Bertman, Bragg Stockton and Jim Wells. Bertman changed the face of baseball in the Southeastern Conference and led the Tigers to five national championships. Stockton had great influence on Gaspard's career and offered the young infielder his first coaching position. That first job has turned into more than 20 years of coaching excellence, with Gaspard demanding the best of his players on and off the field. Gaspard played a vital role in the revival of Alabama baseball in the mid-1990s. His keen eye for talent and his ability to teach the game of baseball helped send the Crimson Tide to the College World Series in 1996, 1997 and 1999.

THE PLAYER

Gaspard's four-year collegiate career at LSU and Houston saw his teams compile a 148-91 (.619) overall record, post two 40-win seasons and play in two NCAA Regionals (1985 and 1987). He began his career at LSU in 1984 and 1985, earning one varsity letter on coach Skip Bertman's first LSU squad in 1984. The 1984 edition of the Tigers posted a 32-23 overall record. The 1985 team went 41-18 en route to the SEC Western Division championship and collected the school's first NCAA Regional appearance since 1975. He transferred to Houston following his sophomore season and played two years for the Cougars, lettering in 1986 and 1987. Gaspard played on coach Rolan Walton's final Houston team in 1986, helping the Cougars post a 35-23 overall mark. In his final season as a player, Gaspard helped the Cougars compile a 40-27 record and a berth in the NCAA Central Regional in Austin, Texas, under first-year head coach Dr. Bragg Stockton. The Cougars finished 1987 ranked 14th nationally.

HOUSTON (1988)

Gaspard's first coaching position came at Houston in 1988, under the legendary Dr. Bragg Stockton. Gaspard tutored with the Cougars infielders, as Houston posted a 33-22-3 overall record. Gaspard's first game as an assistant coach came on Feb. 13, 1988, against Texas Lutheran.

LOUISIANA-LAFAYETTE (1989-92)

Gaspard spent four years at Louisiana-Lafayette and the Ragin' Cajuns won four conference titles during his time on campus. ULL posted a 183-74 (.712) record during Gaspard's time under head coach Mike Boulanger. In 1989, the Cajuns posted a 49-13 overall record and captured the American South Conference championship with an 11-4 mark. The following year, the Cajuns (47-18, 11-4) repeated as conference champs and advanced to the NCAA South I Regional in Baton Rouge, before losing to host LSU and Southern Miss in consecutive games. Louisiana-Lafayette (49-20, 14-4) pulled off the three-peat in 1991, winning a third straight ASC championship. ULL beat Texas, Clemson and Mississippi State during the 1991 regular season before advancing to the NCAA Regionals for the second straight year, finishing runner-up to eventual national champion LSU at the NCAA South II Regional in Baton Rouge. After an opening-round loss to Texas A&M, the Cajuns bounced back to beat Northwestern State, South Alabama and Texas A&M, before dropping the title game to the Tigers. In 1992, ULL (38-23) finished first in the Sun Belt Conference Western Division and played in the program's third straight NCAA Regional, losing to Long Beach State and VCU at the NCAA Central Regional in Austin, Texas.

NORTHWESTERN STATE (1993-94)

Gaspard hooked up with Jim Wells for the first time in 1993, building a close friendship and working relationship over the next 15 years. In his two seasons as an assistant coach at Northwestern State, the Demons went 85-29 (.737) and won two Southland Conference championships, one SLC Tournament title and played in one NCAA tournament. The 1993 NSU squad went 40-14 en route to the SLC title. The 1994 team won a school-record 45 games (45-

ALABAMA (1995-2001)

Gaspard followed Wells to Alabama and played a prominent role in the revival of Crimson Tide baseball. During his seven years as an assistant coach, the Tide posted a 320-127 (.732) record, played in six NCAA Regionals and made three College World Series appearances (1996, 1997 and 1999) in a four-year span. Alabama also won the 1996 SEC championship and captured four SEC Tournament titles (1995, 1996, 1997 and 1999). The Crimson Tide were the No. 1 seed at both the 1996 and 1997 CWS, becoming the first team to be the top seed in consecutive College World Series. Gaspard was responsible signing some of the nation's top baseball players with five top-20 classes, including three straight top-10 rankings. One of his star pupils, Lance Cormier, earned All-America honors on the field and in the classroom and left the Capstone as the program's all-time leader in appearances, innings pitched, wins and strikeouts. Cormier was a fourth-round draft pick following his stellar collegiate career. With Gaspard on watch, Alabama fielded some of the finest defensive units in program history. Alabama led the SEC and ranked fourth nationally with a .971 fielding mark in 1996. The following year, Alabama led the league and ranked ninth nationally with a .968 fielding mark. The 1997 squad remains arguably the most prolific offensive team in school history, leading the nation in total hits (860), runs (679), total bases (1,571) and slugging percentage (.622). The 1997 Tide also ranked second nationally in home runs (160), home runs per game (2.29) and wins (56), all school records.

NORTHWESTERN STATE (2002-07)

Gaspard was named the head coach at Northwestern State after the 2001 season, following in the footsteps of Jim Wells, Dave Van Horn and John Cohen - all who had left the Louisiana school for SEC head coaching jobs, with each ultimately leading their SEC programs to the College World Series (Wells with the Tide, Van Horn with Arkansas and earlier with Nebraska, and Cohen with Mississippi State). Gaspard's six-year record at NSU was 210-138 (.603), which included two Southland Conference championships, one SLC Tournament title and one NCAA Regional appearance. Under Gaspard's guidance, the Demons had 28 All-Southland Conference selections, including 12 first-team picks. Gaspard saw two NSU players win major awards under his watch: 2002 Southland Conference Pitcher of the Year O.J. King and 2004 CoSIDA Academic All-American Bobby Barbier. Gaspard led the Demons to SLC championships in 2002 and 2005. His first NSU squad captured the Southland Conference championship and finished with a 43-17 overall record, including a 14-10 mark in league play. The Demons ranked third nationally in fielding (.974), 11th in double plays (1.17), 12th in earned-run average (3.54) and 18th in winning percentage (.717). That 2002 NSU team also set the school records with 612 hits and 53 sacrifice bunts. Despite a solid RPI and key wins over South Alabama and Minnesota, the Demons were left out of the 2002 NCAA Tournament. The 2003 team then posted a 35-22 record, including a 16-11 mark in SLC play, and ranked 12th nationally with 2.02 stolen bases per game. Tigger Lyles was 19th nationally with 0.59 thefts per game. The 2004 Demons posted a 33-23 record and 16-9 mark in conference play. NSU set a school record with 134 stolen bases to rank sixth nationally with 2.34 per game. Lyles and Josh Boop were among the nation's top stolen base artists, each with 0.52 stolen bases per game to rank 29th nationally. Gaspard led the 2005 NSU team to a 41-20 overall record and his first trip to the NCAA Regionals. The Demons posted a 22-5 conference record, setting the SLC record for wins en route to the league championship and a berth in the NCAA Baton Rouge Regional. The 2005 squad set the school record with 19 saves. Daniel Desclouds (10) and Blake Jones (8) accounted for 18 of those saves and both ranked among the nation's top-50 closers. The Demons compiled a 33-28 record in 2006 and set the school record with 522.1 innings pitched. Gaspard was 25-28 in his final season at NSU in 2007.

~ as a head coach

Including nine years as an assistant coach (1995-2001 & 2008-09) at UA, Mitch Gaspard has been part of 10 NCAA Regionals and three College World Series appearances (1996, 1997 and 1999) in 14 seasons on the Crimson Tide coaching staff.

ALABAMA (2008-09)

Gaspard came back to Alabama as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator on July 9, 2007. He spent two years as the Crimson Tide top assistant coach and ace recruiter. Alabama went 72-49 over those two seasons and played in the 2009 NCAA Clemson Regional. The 2009 squad was one of the most potent offensive squads in the nation, as the Tide ranked among the nation's top-25 teams in slugging percentage (7th), home runs (8th), doubles (12th), runs scored (18th), batting average (22nd), doubles per game (23rd) and total hits (25th). The 2009 Alabama team featured SEC Player of the Year Kent Matthes and a school record-tying five first team All-SEC selections.

ALABAMA (2010-Present)

Through five seasons as the head coach at Alabama, Gaspard has led the Crimson Tide to a 170-139 (.550) overall record, while guiding the Tide to NCAA Regional appearances in 2010, 2011, 2013 and 2014. His 2010 squad was one win from earning the school's sixth College World Series appearance, after winning the NCAA Atlanta Regional before falling to Clemson, two games to one, in the Super Regional series. Gaspard's 42 wins in 2010 set a school record for wins by a first-year head coach, and he became the first coach in program history to lead his squad to a NCAA Super Regional finish in his first year. Taylor Dugas earned 2010 first team All-America honors by Baseball America and four players earned All-SEC honors, as Dugas and shortstop Josh Rutledge were first-team honorees. Following the 2011 season, four Tide players were drafted, including Adam Morgan (3rd round), Dugas (8th), Nathan Kilcrease (30th) and Brock Bennett

(33rd). Dugas also was an ABCA Gold Glove outfielder, an All-SEC Defensive Team selection, a second team All-SEC honoree and an ABCA All-South Region selection. Dugas wrapped up his career at Alabama as the school's all-time hits leader (334), while posting the most doubles (67) and triples (18) in program history. Gaspard inked one of the top recruiting classes in the country for the 2013 season, as the crop of 11 players (10 freshmen and one junior college transfer) was rated as the fourth-best recruiting class by Baseball America and the 16th-best class by Collegiate Baseball. The No. 4 ranking is the highest-rated recruiting class in Alabama history. That recruiting class paid dividends early, as the 2013 squad finished the year with four freshmen in the starting lineup, plus one in the midweek rotation and one in the closer's role. The selections of Mikey White and Ray Castillo as Freshman All-Americans marked the second time Alabama had two Freshman All-Americans in the same season. The talented group of freshmen, along with Gaspard's other accumulated talent, earned a No. 2 seed to the 2013 NCAA Tallahassee Regional, the third NCAA Regional appearance for Gaspard and the 23rd for the University. White also earned second team All-SEC honors at shortstop, while Castillo and Kyle Overstreet were SEC All-Freshman Team selections. Overstreet also was named the Division I ABCA Rawlings Gold Glove Award winner at second base. Gaspard's 2014 team advanced to the championship game of the NCAA Tallahassee Regional, marking the fourth postseason berth in his five-year tenure. Four Tide players were selected to the All-Regional team, including Austen Smith, White, Chance Vincent and Ben Moore. His pitching staff excelled in 2014, as Justin Kamplain, Jay Shaw, and Geoffrey Bramblett combined to throw Alabama's first nine-inning no-hitter since 1942 on March 8 versus Mississippi State. Thanks to his meager 2.15 ERA AND .226 average against, closer Thomas Burrows was named a freshman All-American by both the NCBA and Collegiate Baseball. Following Burrows' nomination, the Tide has had a freshman All-American in each of the past three years. Burrows was also selected as a freshman All-SEC honoree, while teammates Ben Moore and Wade Wass were selected as second-team All-SEC members.

COACHES AND STAFF

DAX NORRIS

Assistant Coach

Eighth Year

ALABAMA, 1996

Dax Norris enters his eighth season as assistant coach at The University of Alabama in 2015. Norris who was an All-American catcher for the Crimson Tide from 1995-96 under head coach Jim Wells and then-assistant coach Mitch Gaspard. He currently works with the pitchers and catchers while helping coordinate the recruiting efforts for the Tide.

Norris, who was a hard-nosed player and one of the cornerstones of Alabama's baseball revival in the 1990s, brings that same work ethic and intensity to the Crimson Tide coaching staff. He began his coaching career at the Capstone as the hitting instructor from 2008-10, before transitioning to work with the pitching staff and tutoring the catchers beginning in the 2011 season. Norris also handles a number of recruiting responsibilities for the program.

During his 11-year professional baseball career, Norris played for the Atlanta Braves and Houston Astros organizations before joining the coaching ranks in 2007. In his time with the two MLB organizations, he was associated with some of the best pitching minds in the game. With the Braves, he worked with legendary pitching coach Leo Mazzone and Hall of Fame pitchers Greg Maddux, John Smoltz and Tom Glavine, then later with Houston pitcher Andy Pettitte.

His 2014 staff was highlighted by standout freshman closer Thomas Burrows and two MLB draft picks in Spencer Turnbull and Justin Kamplain. Burrows earned All-SEC and All-America honors on his way to recording a team-high 11 saves, just one short of the freshman all-time record. The lefty owned a 2.15 ERA across 37.2 innings and struck out 48 batters. Alabama had two of its pitchers drafted at the close of the 2014 campaign, including Spencer Turnbull going in the second round to the Detroit Tigers and Justin Kamplain joining the New York Yankees in the 18th round of the draft. Both were standouts on the 2014 squad, tossing a combined 183.1 innings across 30 starts while striking out 130 in that time and claiming 12 victories for the Tide.

2014 also featured a historical pitching performance when three Tide pitchers combined to throw the school's first nine-inning no-hitter since 1942. On March 8, the Alabama trio of Kamplain, Jay Shaw and Geoffrey Bramblett combined for the eighth no-hitter in school history, as the Crimson Tide took down Mississippi Valley State, 7-0.

With Norris and fellow Alabama All-American Andy Phillips spearheading much of the program's player recruitment, the Tide entered the 2013 season with one of the top incoming classes in college baseball. The 11 signees who came to the Capstone for that 2013 season were rated fourth by Baseball America and No. 16 by Collegiate Baseball.

Norris was instrumental in the development of a young pitching staff in 2013, highlighted by the success of freshman right-hander Ray Castillo. The Crimson Tide's first-year closer recorded 12 saves, the highest total for a freshman in Alabama history and the third-best mark in the program's single-season history. Castillo earned three post-season awards, earning Louisville Slugger First Team Freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball News, NCBWA Second Team Freshman All-American and SEC All-Freshman Team honors.

Norris was also instrumental to developing the talents of walk-on freshman Mike Oczypok, who matched Tucker Hawley for the Tide's best record (5-2) in 2013. Hawley, who returned from Tommy John surgery in 2012, fought back from injury to boast the lowest ERA on the Alabama pitching staff. The Alabama bullpen converted 21-of-24 save opportunities in 2013, to post the second most team saves in a season in program history. The Tide finished the 2013 season ranked 72nd in the country with a 3.70 earned run average and 52nd nationally in hits allowed per nine innings pitched (8.55).

Following the 2011 campaign, Tide pitchers Adam Morgan and Nathan Kilcrease and catcher Brock Bennett were selected in the 2011 MLB Draft. Morgan, a junior in 2011, was the first pitcher selected by the Philadelphia Phillies. Kilcrease was selected in the 30th round by the Oakland A's and Bennett was a 33rd-round selection of the San Francisco Giants. After the 2012 season, reliever Ian Gardeck was selected in the 16th round by the Giants.

Norris' return to Tuscaloosa paid immediate dividends, as the Crimson Tide was one of the top offensive units in the country in 2009. That season, the Tide ranked in the top 25 nationally in nine offensive categories, including slugging percentage (.7th, .566), home runs (8th, 107), doubles (12th, 142), runs scored (18th, 509), batting average (.22nd, .330), doubles per game (23rd, 2.35) and total hits (25th, 689). Following the 2009 season, Norris, along with Gaspard, were named the SEC assistant coaches of the year by SEBaseball.com.

Norris also tutored Kent Matthes, the 2009 SEC Player of the Year who led the nation with a school record 28 home runs. Matthes, a fourth-round draft pick by the Colorado Rockies, hit .358 with 28 home runs and 81 RBI in 2009. That season, Matthes ranked second nationally in home runs per game (0.50), third in slugging percentage (.858), sixth in RBI per game (1.45), 11th in RBI (81) and 12th in total bases (175). A finalist for several national awards, Matthes was named the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association District III Player of the Year.

Norris earlier worked with 2008 All-SEC performers Alex Avila and Brandon May. Avila hit .343 with 17 home runs and 62 RBI as a junior and was selected in the fifth round of the 2008 MLB Draft, making his Major League debut with the Detroit Tigers on Aug. 6, 2009. He became the first Alabama player under Norris' tutelage to reach the big leagues, and has since won a World Series as well as being named to the All-Star team and the Silver Slugger for the catcher position in 2011. May, a 36th round draft pick in 2009 by the Chicago Cubs, hit .347 with 12 home runs and 69 RBI and led the SEC with 39 RBI in 30 league games. In 2008, May hit .365 with five home runs and 50 RBI. Vin DiFazio was a 12th-round draft pick by the Texas Rangers following the 2009 season.

Prior to his return to Alabama, Norris began his coaching career at Niceville (Fla.) High School, where he spent the 2007 season working under former Tide assistant coach Kevin Berry. Norris worked with the Niceville hitters and catchers and one of his star pupils was eventual Alabama pitcher Jimmy Nelson, who earned all-state honors in high school. Following his junior season at Alabama, Nelson was a second-round draft pick by the Milwaukee Brewers in 2010 and made his debut with the Brewers in 2014.

Norris played 11 seasons with the Braves and Astros organizations, reaching the Triple-A level with both clubs and was voted to the 2002 Triple-A All-Star team as a member of the Richmond Braves. He played in 846 career minor league games and batted .265 with 73 home runs, 421 RBI and 771 total hits. Norris had a career-high 122 hits and 72 RBI for the Greenville (S.C.) Braves (Class AA, Southern League) in 2000 and smacked a career-high 15 home runs in Greenville in 1999. During the off-seasons, Norris played in the Venezuelan and Dominican winter leagues and also ran his own hitting school.

A 23rd-round draft pick by the Braves in 1996, Norris had been a two-year starter for the Tide. He batted .283 (72-254) as a junior in 1995 with three home runs and 34 RBI in 63 starts. Norris was named to the 1995 NCAA East Regional all-tournament team, after batting .316 (6-19) with two runs scored and five RBI.

Norris was elected team captain on the Tide's 1996 SEC championship team that finished with a then-school record 50 wins. Alabama also captured the 1996 SEC Tournament championship and hosted an NCAA Regional for the first time in program history. Norris led the Tide to its first College World Series appearance since 1983 during his senior year. He batted .370 (105-284) with seven home runs and 49 RBI, en route to being named a 1996 first team All-American by the Super Smith Team. Norris also was a first team All-SEC honoree and American Baseball Coaches Association All-South Region pick.

Following his professional career, Norris completed his bachelor's degree in human environmental science in 2007. A native of LaGrange, Ga., Norris was born Jan. 14, 1973. He is married to the former Rene' Simpkins. The couple welcomed their first child, son Colton Dax Norris, in September of 2010.

ANDY PHILLIPS

Assistant Coach

Fifth Year

ALABAMA, 1999

Andy Phillips

Following a professional baseball career that spanned 12 seasons, including five in Major League Baseball, Andy Phillips returned to The University of Alabama in 2011 as an assistant coach. Phillips enters his fifth season at Alabama and is the hitting and infield coach for the Crimson Tide, while sharing recruiting responsibilities for the program.

"Andy was a phenomenal player here, and I couldn't have been happier with his decision to return to Alabama," said Alabama head baseball coach Mitch Gaspard. "He is the most well-rounded person I have ever coached and been around, and we are very fortunate to have him join our coaching staff."

In 2014, the Crimson Tide finished second in the SEC with 42 home runs, the most for Alabama since 2010 and the bat change in 2011. Junior Ben Moore led the team with nine home runs, good for third-most in the SEC, while Mikey White and Austen Smith contributed seven and six homers, respectively. On the defensive side, Alabama recorded a .973 fielding percentage and helped limit many rallies with the team's range in the field.

Phillips coached up a 2013 infield that featured freshmen Mikey White at shortstop and Kyle Overstreet at second base. Despite the youth, the Crimson Tide finished second in the country with 80 double plays, one shy of the national lead and one shy of the school record.

White had a stellar year at the plate during Southeastern Conference play, posting a .350 batting average against conference competition, to rank eighth in the league. White earned second team All-SEC honors and was named a Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball News. Overstreet was named the Division I Rawlings Gold Glove Award winner at second base after leading the SEC with 67 double plays turned in 2013. Overstreet, who garnered SEC All-Freshman Team honors, posted a .983 fielding percentage, committing just six errors in 363 chances. As a team, the Tide posted a .976 fielding percentage in 2013, the second best in program history.

While leading the Tide's hitting instruction in his first three seasons, Phillips helped Taylor Dugas finish his career as the program's all-time leader in hits, doubles and triples. Dugas notched his 323rd career hit against Mississippi State on May 5, 2012, to break the record Phillips held since 1999. Phillips also mentored Ben Moore, who hit .342 en route to Freshman All-America honors by Baseball America and an SEC All-Freshman Team selection in 2012.

A four-year Alabama letterwinner (1996-99) and 1999 first team All-American, Phillips played for the New York Yankees (2004-07), New York Mets (2008) and Cincinnati Reds (2008) during his MLB career. Before returning to the Capstone in 2011, Phillips played two years in the Nippon Professional League (Japan) for the Hiroshima Toyo Carp (2009) and the Tohoku Rakuten Golden Eagles (2010).

"Coaching always intrigued me, but only in an ideal situation, and that is here at Alabama," said Phillips. "I never wanted to get into coaching just to say I was a coach. There are a lot of things that I have aspired to do, but I've always had a passion for teaching and soaking in information. I always said that if I had the opportunity to coach here, I would do it, but it would only be here."

Following a stellar playing career at Alabama, Phillips was a seventh-round draft pick by the Yankees in 1999. He made his Major League debut on Sept. 14, 2004, and in his first at-bat, he belted a home run over the Green Monster in Fenway Park on the first pitch he saw from Terry Adams. Phillips is one of seven players to homer in his first at-bat as a Yankee and became the 21st player in MLB history to hit a home run on the first pitch of his career.

Phillips received the Yankees' Kevin Long "Minor-League Player of the Year" Award following a 2004 season where he led all Yankees minor leaguers in batting average (.321) and RBI (101) while ranking second in home runs (30). He was voted the Most Valuable Player of the International League All-Star Game, after hitting a 10th-inning walk-off home run. Phillips later earned the James P. Dawson Award as the Yankees' most outstanding rookie during the 2005 spring training.

With the Yankees in the 2006 season, Phillips saw action in 110 games, posting a .240 batting average with seven home runs, 11 doubles and 29 RBI, as New York won the American League East Division title with an MLB-best 97-65 record. Phillips made one plate appearance in the American League Divisional Series against the Detroit Tigers. After returning to the minors for the start of the 2007 season, Phillips rejoined the Yankees on June 19, 2007, and in 61 games posted a career-high .292 batting average. The season was cut short when he suffered a broken wrist after being hit by a pitch.

Phillips' MLB career continued in 2008 as a member of the Cincinnati Reds, seeing action in 52 games with 73 at-bats. After hitting .233, Phillips was designated for assignment by the Reds and was picked up by the New York Mets, playing four games. He was designated for assignment by the Mets on July 1, 2008, and reclaimed by the Reds off waivers on July 3 but never returned to the Major League Baseball.

On Dec. 22, 2008, Phillips was signed to a minor league contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates and was invited to Spring Training as a non-roster invitee. In April of 2009, he was traded to the Chicago White Sox, and assigned to the Charlotte Knights of the International League. On June 23, 2009, Phillips signed with the Hiroshima Toyo Carp of Nippon Professional Baseball, and after one season with the Carp, he played his final professional season with the Tohoku Rakuten Golden Eagles in 2010.

In his four seasons at Alabama (1996-99), Phillips posted a .356 career batting average with 61 home runs, 224 RBI and 322 hits. He ended his career as the all-time leader in home runs, RBI and hits, still holding the school records in career home runs and total bases (590). In the history of the baseball program at Alabama, Phillips is one of three players with 50 home runs and 200 RBI, one of four with 300 hits, and is the only player in school history with 50 home runs, 200 RBI and 300 hits.

The Tide advanced to the NCAA Tournament all four years that Phillips wore the Alabama uniform, which included three College World Series appearances. He joins Manny Torres as the only Tide players to appear in the CWS during three different seasons. As a freshman in 1996, Phillips was part of a 50-19 squad that captured the SEC regular-season and tournament titles and advanced to the CWS, marking the third trip in school history and the first for the Tide since the 1983 season.

Phillips hit .366 in 1997 with 15 home runs and 64 RBI to help the Tide post a 56-14 overall record, an SEC regular-season championship and a runner-up finish in the CWS, falling to LSU (13-6) in the national championship game. As a junior, Phillips hit .351 with 21 home runs and a career-high 81 RBI, as the Tide posted a 46-18 record after falling to Long Beach State (5-3) in the final game of the NCAA West Regional.

As a senior, Phillips nearly hit .400 (.398), with 22 home runs, 22 doubles, 66 RBI and a .781 slugging percentage. He led the Crimson Tide to the 1999 SEC Tournament title, before advancing through the NCAA Regional and Super Regional rounds, and the Tide finishing third in the College World Series.

After his senior campaign, Phillips was a first team All-America selection by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA) and College Baseball Insider. He garnered third team All-America honors by the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA), Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball. Phillips completed his bachelor's degree in sports fitness management from The University of Alabama in 1999.

ALABAMA, 2014

A member of the UA baseball team from 2008-11, Nathan Kilcrease officially joined the Crimson Tide staff following last season where he served as a student coach.

"Nathan is going to be a valuable addition to our coaching staff", said Gaspard. "He is a young energetic coach that brings a wealth of playing experience and knowledge that he can share with our players."

Kilcrease, who was drafted by the Oakland Athletics in the 30th round of the 2011 Major League Baseball Draft, spent two seasons in Minor League Baseball. Prior to his professional career, Kilcrease spent four years in Tuscaloosa where he earned numerous UA career records. He ranks first all-time with 88 career appearances and owned a 23-11 overall record with a 3.21 career ERA while at the Capstone. His 23 wins rank sixth all-time, while his 240 career strikeouts rank him seventh in UA annals.

In his senior season with the Tide, Kilcrease excelled as a starter going 8-4 in 16 starts while tossing two complete games and earning one shutout. For the season, he sported a 3.12 ERA and held opposing hitters to a lowly .255 batting average. The righty also struck out 88 batters, 25 of which were looking, team-highs in both categories.

Graduating from UA in 2014, he received his bachelor's degree in human environmental sciences while serving as one of Alabama student coaches. Before attending UA, he was a two-time Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball All-American (2006, 2007) and a two-time First-Team AISA All-State selection by The Birmingham News and the AWSA during his time at Glenwood Academy in Phenix City, Ala.

ALABAMA, 2011

A member of the UA baseball team from 2009-11, David Kindred returns to Tuscaloosa after spending the last two years working for Regions Financial Corporation.

"We are excited to have David rejoin the Alabama baseball family," said Gaspard. "David was an outstanding player and a teammate during his three years as a player, and we expect him to bring the passion and energy to the Director of Operations position that he had when he was a student-athlete at Alabama."

Kindred, who was a four-time member of the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll, graduated from the University of Alabama with a bachelor's degree in business administration in 2010. He continued his studies at The Capstone where he completed a master's degree at the Manderson Graduate School for Business in 2012.

While completing his master's degree, Kindred served as an intern with the Crimson Tide Sports Marketing office. He joined the Regions Financial Corporation in 2012, where he served as a Strategy Specialist for two years in downtown Birmingham. In his role with Regions Financial, he helped negotiate third party vendor contracts, developed and executed business unit strategies, managed product development and implementation for sales campaigns, and provided market analysis to enhance business opportunities.

In his first season with the Tide, he played a vital role in helping Alabama advance to the 2010 NCAA Super Regionals. As the team's designated hitter, Kindred hit .314 with three home runs and 18 RBI in 33 games. Kindred hit .250 with 10 doubles and eight RBI, playing in 34 games during his senior season in 2011. In two seasons with the Tide, he appeared in 67 games, starting 45 times, posting a .284 career batting average.

1977 MLB HALL OF FAME MEMBER - JOE SEWELL

Joe Sewell had a knack for this “funny game.”

That knack has made him the only player in Crimson Tide baseball annals to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in the quaint little town of Cooperstown, N.Y.

The only other Crimson Tider in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum is New York Yankees legendary broadcaster Mel Allen, who along with Florida alum Red Barber earned induction in 1978 as the inaugural winners of the Ford C. Frick Award.

Inducted in the Hall of Fame in 1977, Sewell’s career spanned 14 seasons with the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees.

From the moment he left the Capstone as student body president in 1919, Sewell’s major league career was the stuff dreams are made of. After leading the Crimson Tide to the 1919 Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship, Sewell was selected by the Indians and signed with the New Orleans team in the Southern Association.

The Titus, Ala., native made his Major League debut with the Indians in the heat of a 1920 pennant drive, after their everyday shortstop was killed after being hit with a submarine pitch. Sewell rose to the challenge and batted .329 over the final 22 games of the season to help the Indians clinch the American League pennant.

Alongside future Hall of Famers Stanley Coveleski, Tris Speaker and Bill Wambagass, Sewell and the Indians disposed of the Brooklyn Robins in seven games, taking the 1920 series five games to two. Sewell batted only .174 (4-for-23) in his first trip to the fall classic, but was solid in the field in all seven games, helping the Indians lay claim to the World Series title.

He played 11 years for the Indians before joining the New York Yankees roster for the final three years of his outstanding Major League career.

Sewell once again tasted greatness with Yankees in 1932, when New York beat the Chicago Cubs in the most talked about World Series in history. The Yankees won 107 games in 1932 and swept the Cubs in the best-of-seven fall classic. The Yankees took the first two games at Yankee Stadium (12-6 and 5-2) before moving to Wrigley Field for games three and four.

In game three, Babe Ruth, a teammate and close friend of Sewell, made baseball history. Ruth’s fifth inning at-bat off Chicago hurler Charley Root is still the most talked about home run in baseball history.

Ruth earlier had slugged a three-run home run in the first inning and legend has it that, after taking two called strikes in his third at-bat, the Sultan of Swat pointed to center field before he slammed a two-run home run over the head of Johnny Moore. It has become the most debated home run in the history of the fall classic.

The Yankees won the game 7-5 and then closed out the Cubs the following day (13-6) to win the 1932 World Championship. In a lineup filled with Hall of Famers from Frank Crosetti to Bill Dickey to Lou Gehrig to Ruth, Sewell batted .333 (5-for-15) in the four games with six runs scored and two RBI. He was on base when Ruth slugged his first-inning home run in game three and witnessed the famed “called shot” from the Yankees dugout.

Sewell also was a close friend and roommate with Yankee legend Lou Gehrig, whose career tragically was cut short due to ALS in the 1930s.

In 14 Major League seasons, Sewell batted .312 (2,226-of-7,132) with 1,051 career RBI. He played in nearly 2,000 career games and logged over 7,000 at-bats for the Indians and Yankees. He also had more than 2,000 hits, 1,000 runs scored and 1,000 RBI.

Sewell hit .300 or better in 10 of his 14 seasons in the big leagues. His best season was 1923 when he batted .353 (195-for-553) with the Indians. He collected a career-high 204 hits with the Indians in 1925, when he posted a .336 (204-for-608) batting average.

An outstanding fielder, Sewell led the American League in putouts and assists four times in his career and led the league in fielding percentage three times.

A “singles hitter” overshadowed by some the game’s greatest sluggers, Sewell set five major league records that continue to pass the test of time: fewest strikeouts in a season (3, two times); consecutive games without a strikeout (115); consecutive at-bats without a strikeout (437); most seasons of 500 or more at-bats with fewer than four strikeouts (4); and fewest career strikeouts (114).

Throughout his sparkling 14-year career at the pinnacle of the baseball profession, Sewell turned in numbers that simply are amazing to the average baseball fan. For instance, his 114 career strikeouts in more than 7,000 career at-bats averages out to one strikeout for every 63 at-bats, and one strikeout in every 16 games played.

And still years later, in 1964 at age 66, Sewell, a Tuscaloosa resident and businessman since his college days, took over the Crimson Tide’s baseball program as head coach. In his seven-year tenure, Alabama compiled a 114-99 (.535) record, which included winning the 1968 SEC Championship and a trip to the NCAA District III Playoffs in North Carolina.

Sewell was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in 1977, along with Ernie Banks, Martin Dihigo, Pop Lloyd, Al Lopez and Amos Rusie. He is one of 11 Alabama natives to be enshrined in Cooperstown, joining fellow legends Hank Aaron (Mobile), Monte Irvin (Columbia), Heinie Manush (Tuscumbia), Willie Mays (Westfield), Willie McCovey (Mobile), Satchel Paige (Mobile), Ozzie Smith (Mobile), Don Sutton (Clio), Billy Williams (Whistler) and Early Wynn (Hartford).

Sewell died on March 6, 1990, in Mobile, Ala., after a lengthy illness. At the time of his death he was the oldest living baseball Hall of Famer at 91 years of age.

FORD C. FRICK AWARD - MEL ALLEN

Mel Allen is as much a part of the national pastime as the squeeze play, hot dogs, and pennants flapping in the breeze. And he never played in the big leagues. Instead he broadcasted the game, and that allowed the fans to play the games over and over in their minds. His voice is the one that millions of fans associate with the game of baseball.

Born Melvin Allen Israel, the son of a traveling textile representative in Birmingham, and raised all over Alabama, he was a spindly student manager for the Crimson Tide football and baseball teams when he received his chance to announce games. Allen's first assignment behind the microphone was doing play-by-play of a football game between Tulane and Alabama, his beloved alma mater.

While a student at Alabama, Allen sold shoes, coached speech and debate, and ultimately earned his law degree before winning an audition to announce in New York for CBS Radio. After the audition with CBS in 1936, Allen broadcast his first World Series for the network in 1938. He joined the Yankees the following year and stayed for 25 more, delighting millions of baseball fans with his warm sign-on – "Hello, everybody!" – and his trademark phrases "How about that!" and "Going, going, gone!"

Allen was the voice of the New York Yankees from 1939 to 1964, covering the team that aroused more passion than any other in baseball. With his vivid phrases and pleasing Alabama drawl, he called many of the great events in the game: the Babe's good-bye, Larsen's perfect game in the 1956 World Series, Mantle's heroics, Maris' record-shattering summer (1961), Casey's barbs and Yogi's convoluted pronouncements.

"Mel Allen meant as much to Yankee tradition as legends like Ruth, Gehrig, DiMaggio and Mantle," Yankees owner George Steinbrenner said. "He was the voice of the Yankees."

In an era before television, millions of radio listeners around the nation envisioned the game through the descriptions of this thoughtful and articulate Alabamian who prided himself on being both a reporter and storyteller.

Allen later moved to the Milwaukee Braves in 1965, went on to broadcast for the Cleveland Indians and handled a variety of assignments for NBC. He returned as the voice of the New York Yankees in 1970s and began a 19-year association with This Week in Baseball as host of the popular television program.

In his 58 years of sports broadcasting, Allen did it all. He called thousands of Yankees games, 24 Major League Baseball World Series, 20 All-Star Games, 14 Rose Bowls, five Orange Bowls, two Sugar Bowls, and more than 2,000 newsreels.

A winner of numerous industry, listener and viewer awards, Allen is a member of National Baseball Hall of Fame (as the first Ford C. Frick winner in 1978), National (USA) Sportswriters and Broadcasters Hall of Fame (1972), the American Sportscasters Association Hall of Fame (1985), the Radio Hall of Fame (1988), the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, the University of Alabama Communication Hall of Fame (1995) and was enshrined to Monument Park at Yankee Stadium (July 25, 1999).

Decades ago, Allen sat next to a weakened Lou Gehrig in the dugout before a game. Gehrig soon would die from the disease that forced his emotional, early farewell from the game.

"Mel, sometimes your descriptions of the game are the only thing that keeps me going," Gehrig said.

Allen went into the tunnel and cried like a baby. How about that?

1983 GOLDEN SPIKES AWARD/BASEBALL AMERICA PLAYER OF THE YEAR - DAVID MAGADAN

Never before or since has an Alabama baseball player had a season at the plate like David Magadan did in 1983.

The Alabama junior shattered school and Southeastern Conference records that still stand today in becoming the 1983 Golden Spikes Award winner, presented annually by the United States Baseball Federation.

Magadan, who concluded the 1983 season with six school career records (at-bats, runs, hits, RBI, doubles, total bases and batting average), was a major contributor in Alabama's national runner-up spot to Texas at the College World Series. He paced the Crimson Tide to winning the NCAA South Regional and Southeastern Conference titles en route to a 46-11 record, one the most successful campaigns in school history.

After batting an incredible nation-leading .525 (114-for-217) as a junior, Magadan was voted the 1983 College "Player of the Year" by Baseball America and he also led the team in hits (114), doubles (31), total bases (180) and slugging percentage (.829) during his record-setting campaign.

Magadan was a consensus first team All-America selection by the American Baseball Coaches Association, the Sporting News, Baseball America and the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association during the 1983 season and was a three-time All-SEC selection at the Capstone.

Two years earlier, Magadan hit safely in his initial 27 games as a freshman in 1981 and as a junior, went an incredible 10-for-11 (.909) at the 1983 SEC Tournament in Starkville, Miss., which included a five-hit game (2 doubles, 2 HRs) against Florida, en route to being named the Most Valuable Player of the tournament. He also set the CWS record by hitting safely in his first eight trips to the plate and wound up batting .550 (11-for-20) at Omaha in five games.

After his freshman season at Alabama, Magadan led his American Legion team to the 1981 American Legion World Series title and was named the "Sports Club Amateur of the Year" when Tampa Post 248 won the national title. Magadan also is recognized in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum for his amateur accomplishments in 1981.

The Tampa native played in 162 games during his Alabama career and batted .439 (268-for-610) with 64 doubles, 14 home runs and 188 RBI. His .439 batting average still ranks among the leaders in Division I baseball and remains atop the SEC record books as the highest career average in league history.

Magadan still holds Alabama records for single-season batting average (.525, 1983), career batting average (.439, 1981-83), single-season hits (114, 1983), single season doubles (31, 1983) and single-season RBI (95, 1983). He also set the Alabama standards for highest batting average for a freshman (.399, 1981) and junior (.525, 1983) and most RBI (95, 1983) by a junior and shares the single-game record with five hits, a feat he accomplished an Alabama record three times against Alabama Christian (April 16, 1983), Florida (May 13, 1983) and Arizona State (June 4, 1983).

First drafted by the Boston Red Sox out of Tampa's Jesuit High School, Magadan then was one of six Alabama players selected in the 1983 MLB Draft. He signed with the New York Mets and was assigned to the Columbia, S.C. Mets in the class A South Atlantic League in his first pro ball assignment. In that first summer, Magadan batted .336 with three home runs and 32 RBI.

Magadan made his Major League debut for the Mets against the Chicago Cubs on Sept. 17, 1986, as the starting first baseman at Shea Stadium. In the game, he went 3-for-4 with two RBI, including the game-winner in the eighth inning that clinched the National League Eastern Division title for the eventual world champions.

In 1990, Magadan finished third in the National League batting race with a career-best .328 (148-for-451) average. He played 16 years in the Major Leagues before retiring from the game after the 2001 season. In those 16 seasons, Magadan hit .288 (1,197-for-4,159) with 42 home runs and 495 RBI in 1,582 career big-league games.

After his playing days, Magadan was named the roving minor league hitting instructor by the San Diego Padres, before being promoted as the big-league hitting coach prior to the 2003 season. After four seasons with the Padres, Magadan was named the hitting coach for the Boston Red Sox in 2007. After working six years in Boston, Magadan began working as the hitting instructor for the Texas Rangers in 2013, a title which he still holds entering the 2015 Major League Baseball season.

In June of 2010, Magadan joined former Alabama All-American and head coach Joe Sewell as the only Tide players to be inducted into the College Baseball Hall of Fame. In 2014, he was inducted into the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Alabama Crimson Tide representatives Eli Gold and Major Ogilvie.

1999 DICK HOWSER TROPHY FINALIST - ANDY PHILLIPS

Andy Phillips is one of the most decorated players in the history of Alabama baseball.

A member of coach Jim Wells' first signing class, Phillips rewrote the Alabama record books and in the process took the Crimson Tide baseball program to new heights with three trips to the College World Series in his four-year career.

That impact was not limited to the Crimson Tide baseball family, as his talents were recognized nationally by writers, broadcasters and professional scouts.

A consensus All-America selection as a senior, Phillips was named the 1999 National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association District III Player of the Year and finished runner up to Baylor's Jason Jennings for the 1999 Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association to the best player in college baseball.

Florida State's Marshall McDougal, Cal State Fullerton's Spencer Oborn and Rice's Mario Ramos also were finalists for the Howser Trophy, named for the former Florida State infielder and Kansas City Royals manager.

Phillips also was named first team All-American by the NCBWA as well as being a member of the 1999 NCBWA Super All-American squad.

In addition to the NCBWA honors, Phillips was named first team All-American by College Baseball Insider and was a third team All-America selection by Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball and the American Baseball Coaches Association.

The Demopolis, Ala., native wrapped up his Alabama career as the school record-holder in eight career statistical categories, including most games played (244), games started (224), at-bats (905), runs scored (222), total hits (322), home runs (61), RBI (224) and total bases (590). He also ranked second in career doubles (63) and triples (11), and was third in assists (537) and 10th in walks (86).

As a senior in 1999, Phillips set the standard of excellence for Crimson Tide baseball. He played in 64 games and batted .398 (103-for-259) with 22 home runs and 66 RBI. He added 71 runs scored, 22 doubles, 30 walks and 16 stolen bases for an Alabama team that captured the SEC Tournament Championship and finished third at the College World Series.

Phillips also set Alabama single-season records for total bases (203) and set records for most home runs (22) and RBI (66) by a shortstop at Alabama.

The former Tide shortstop also set the SEC record with a 36-game hitting streak during his final season at Alabama, breaking the old standard of 33 games set by LSU second baseman Todd Walker (1993). During his record-setting hitting streak, Phillips batted .407 (66-for-162) with 17 home runs and 45 RBI.

In 1998, Phillips was named the Sporting News National Player of the Week (April 1, 1998), after hitting .500 (8-of-16) with six runs scored, three home runs and 11 RBI in wins over Southern Mississippi and Mississippi State.

Phillips was just as successful off the field, earning his degree from Alabama in 1999, while being an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is an accomplished singer. Twice during his career, Phillips sang the National Anthem prior to a Crimson Tide home game at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. A three-time All-SEC selection, Phillips also was named to the 1999 SEC Good Works Team for his many hours of community service.

Following an 11-year professional baseball career, which included five seasons in Major League Baseball, Phillips returned to Alabama as the hitting and infield coach, beginning with the 2011 season. His MLB debut came in 2004 for the New York Yankees and he homered on the first pitch he saw as a Major League player. Phillips played for the Yankees from 2004-07, before playing his final season in the majors with the Cincinnati Reds in 2008. Prior to returning to Alabama, he played two seasons in the Nippon Professional League in Japan.

2002 JOHNNY BENCH AWARD - JEREMY BROWN

The most decorated catcher in University of Alabama baseball history, Jeremy Brown was named the winner of the 2002 Johnny Bench Award, presented annually by the Greater Wichita Area Sports Commission to the nation's best catcher.

"The Greater Wichita Sports Commission would like to congratulate all of the award finalists and especially Jeremy Brown, the 2002 Johnny Bench National Collegiate Catcher of the Year," Bob Hanson, President and CEO of the Greater Wichita Sports Commission, said. "Jeremy represents the University of Alabama in a remarkable manner."

Brown edged out Southern California junior Alberto Concepcion and University of Houston junior Chris Snyder to win the 2002 award.

Brown said upon receiving the 2002 Johnny Bench Award. "I'd like to thank my family and my coaches for all of their support over the past four years. It's truly an honor to receive this award from the best catcher of all time, Mr. Johnny Bench."

It is the highest honor awarded to an Alabama baseball player since David Magadan earned the 1983 Golden Spikes Award, presented annually to the best player in college baseball. The Golden Spikes award is the baseball equivalent to college football's Heisman Trophy award.

Bench, a native of Oklahoma City, and Major League Baseball Hall of Famer, was on hand to present the award to Brown. Bench was the starting catcher for the Cincinnati Reds back-to-back World Series championship teams in 1975 and 1976.

Former Los Angeles Dodger first baseman Steve Garvey delivered the keynote address to more than 350 people in attendance at the Grand Eagle Ballroom at the downtown Wichita Hyatt Regency hotel. The banquet recognizes the achievements and dedication of local youth, high school, college and professional coaches in the Wichita area. Alabama head coach Jim Wells was also in attendance to see his All-American catcher receive the award, symbolizing the best college catcher in the nation.

A two-year starter behind the plate for Alabama, Brown was a runner up to Baylor's Kelly Shoppach in the 2001 Johnny Bench Award voting. Brown is one of four Southeastern Conference catchers to win the Johnny Bench Award, joining LSU's Brad Cresse, who won the inaugural award in 2000, Mississippi State's Ed Easley in 2007, and Florida's Mike Zunino in 2012.

A native of Hueytown, Ala., Brown appeared in 66 games for Alabama as a senior and hit a .320 average (70-for-219) with 11 home runs and 64 RBI. He also set the Alabama single-season record with 69 walks, surpassing the previous total of 66 walks held by Bret Elbin in 1983.

Brown made only one error for Alabama in his final 119 games at the Capstone. He set the Tide single-season record with a 1.000 fielding percentage in 2001 and made only one error in 2002.

Brown was second in the SEC with seven pickoffs and ranked among the league leaders by throwing out 43 percent of his attempted base stealers.

A first-round pick of the Oakland Athletics, Brown concluded his career at Alabama as the all-time leader for games played (251), games started (251), runs scored (244), walks (207) and putouts (1,660). He still remains as the only player in SEC history to collect 300 career hits (307) and 200 career walks (207).

Named a 2002 second team All-American by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, Brown also was a first team All-SEC pick for the second consecutive year. He was also chosen as the District III Player of the Year by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association and was a finalist for the 2002 Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the St. Petersburg Area Chamber of Commerce and Verizon.

2003 DISTRICT III PLAYER OF THE YEAR - BEAU HEAROD

Beau Hearod went where few University of Alabama players had gone before. The slugger from Jennings, La., had a phenomenal 2003 season and in the process led the Southeastern Conference in both home runs (20) and RBI (82) in his final campaign with the Crimson Tide.

A first team All-SEC selection, Hearod became the first Alabama player to lead the SEC in home runs since Doug Duke smacked a league-leading 27 four-baggers as a junior in 1986. Hearod became the fourth player in school history to lead the league in home runs, joining Stan Moss (7, 1968), Butch Hobson (13, 1973) and Duke as the league's home run champ. Hearod also was the first Crimson Tide slugger to lead the league in RBI since Duke's league-best 82 in 1986.

After putting up those staggering numbers during the rugged 62-game season, which included 34 games against SEC teams, Hearod was tabbed as the District III Player of the Year by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, marking the second consecutive year and the third time since the inception of the award in 1999 that an Alabama player has been bestowed the top in District III.

Former Alabama catcher Jeremy Brown, a first round draft selection by the Oakland Athletics in 2002 and the 2002 Johnny Bench award winner, was named the 2002 District III Player of the Year following an outstanding senior season. Andy Phillips, the school's all-time home run leader, won the inaugural District III Player of the Year award in 1999 and was one of the three finalists for the prestigious Dick Howser Trophy, presented to the NCBWA Player of the Year.

Other 2003 district winners included Boston College pitcher Chris Lambert (District I), St. John's outfielder Mike Rozema (District II), South Carolina lefty David Marchbanks (District IV), Ohio State pitcher Scott Lewis (District V), Nebraska first baseman Matt Hooper (District VI), Tulane first baseman and left hand pitcher Michael Aubrey (District VII), Southern University shortstop Rickie Weeks (District VII), New Mexico first baseman Billy Belcher (District VIII) and Arizona State shortstop Dustin Pedroia (District IX).

From the ranks of these 10 District winners, Southern University's Rickie Weeks was named the winner of the 2003 Dick Howser Trophy.

As a senior, Hearod started all 62 games and batted .346 (80-for-231) with 20 home runs and 82 RBI. He was also named the Most Valuable Player of the 2003 SEC Tournament at the Hoover Met, leading the Crimson Tide to its second straight postseason title and sixth under coach Jim Wells.

Hearod ranked ninth nationally in home runs (20) and 17th nationally with 0.32 home runs per game. He was sixth in total RBI and ninth with 1.32 RBI per game. He also led the SEC and ranked 27th nationally with a whopping .719 slugging percentage.

In his three-year career with Alabama, Hearod played in 177 games and batted .327 (210-for-643) with 40 home runs and 191 RBI. He also totaled 141 runs scored, 43 doubles, five triples, 61 walks and a .595 career slugging mark.

He wrapped up his Alabama career with five grand slams, one shy of the school, SEC and NCAA record set by the Tide's Mike Pitisci in 1984.

Wade LeBlanc had a freshman season like no other in the 111-year history of the University of Alabama baseball program.

The talented freshman left-hander racked up just about every postseason award available as he became the first rookie in Crimson Tide baseball history to earn National and SEC Freshman of the Year honors.

LeBlanc was tabbed the 2004 National Freshman of the Year by Collegiate Baseball newspaper after being named the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year at the conclusion of the regular season.

LeBlanc's turning point in the season was the back-to-back wins against No. 6 LSU and No. 10 Florida in early May. He beat LSU 8-2 on May 1 in Baton Rouge and then shut out the high-powered Gators in Tuscaloosa on May 7, allowing only four hits and striking out nine batters.

"I guess the LSU and Florida games back-to-back really told me what kind of season I was having," LeBlanc said. "This whole season was crazy, I never thought I would have a year like this and be named National and SEC Freshman of the Year. This is a great honor."

LeBlanc finished his outstanding freshman season by setting Alabama freshman records for innings pitched (112.2), strikeouts (98) and complete games (8) while tying the Alabama freshman record with eight wins.

In 16 games, including 15 starts, LeBlanc posted an 8-4 record and 2.08 ERA. He worked 112.2 innings and allowed 87 hits, 37 runs and 26 earned runs, with 26 walks and 98 strikeouts. LeBlanc also threw eight complete games and pitched three shutouts in 2004.

In addition to his freshman records, LeBlanc also ranks among the school's top 10 single-season leaders in several categories. His eight complete games tied Gene Lary (1955) for second place on the school's single-season list. The three shutouts matched Mike Innes (1968) and Drew Blocker (1974) for third-place on the single-season shutout charts. LeBlanc's 112.2 innings pitched tied Dean Hayes (1983) for seventh place on the single-season innings while the 98 strikeouts tied Jarrod Kingrey (1998) and Steve Shoemaker (1994) for 10th place.

LeBlanc was tabbed a third team All-American by both the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association (NCBWA) and Baseball America. He was the only freshman named to the 2004 Baseball America All-America team. LeBlanc also was named to the 2004 SEC All-Freshman team and was a second team All-SEC selection as voted by the league's 12 head coaches.

SEBaseball.com also tabbed him as the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year as well as a first team All-SEC selection. He also was selected to the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) All-South Region team.

LeBlanc was drafted by the San Diego Padres in the second round of the 2006 MLB Amateur Draft. He made his Major League debut on Sept. 8, 2008 for the Padres. Through the 2011 season, LeBlanc had appeared in 54 games, 52 as a starter, with a 17-22 overall record in four years with the Padres.

He spent the 2012 season in the Miami Marlins organization. After starting the year in Triple-A, LeBlanc made 25 appearances with nine Major League starts. He was 2-5 with a 3.67 ERA in his first season with the Marlins. In 2013, LeBlanc started the season in the big leagues where he appeared in 13 games with seven starts for the Marlins. He was then picked up on waivers by Houston, where he made four relief appearances for the Astros.

In the 2014 offseason, LeBlanc signed a minor league contract with the Los Angeles Angels on Anaheim. He began the season in Triple-A Salt Lake, and eventually got the call-up to the Angels on May 25. He was designated for assignment by Los Angeles and picked up by the New York Yankees but was eventually designated for assignment once again. He returned to the Angles in the midst of a playoff race and spent the finality of the 2014 season in Los Angeles.

For his MLB career, LeBlanc is 21-33 with a 4.47 ERA (222 ER/446.2 IP), making 107 appearances with 71 starts while striking out 302 batters.

2009 SEC PLAYER OF THE YEAR - KENT MATTHES

Alabama right fielder Kent Matthes wrapped up a remarkable senior season by winning Southeastern Conference Player of the Year honors and being tabbed a consensus All-American. Matthes is the first Alabama player to win SEC Player of the Year honors since the league began presenting the award in 1993.

"Kent Matthes had a great year and deserves this honor," former Alabama head coach Jim Wells said. "It has been great to sit in the dugout and watch him do the things he has done this year. He has had a great year and put up some incredible numbers. You read sometimes about guys having years like this, but he usually isn't on your team. This year we have that player and it has been fun watching him on and off the field."

Matthes was also named first team All-American by every baseball publication, including the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA), Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball, the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA), Rivals and PING.

"It is a great honor to be recognized by the best college baseball league with all the talented players we have in the SEC," Matthes said. "It is an honor to be named SEC Player of the Year and to be able to accomplish the feat as a senior. This has been an incredible season and I am happy to be a part of this team."

"I was looking to take advantage of my senior year and make the most of it," said Matthes. "I worked hard in the off-season with Dax (Norris), got hot early, hit a lot of home runs and they kept coming. I tried to stay focused on winning each game and not the stats."

The senior was named the 2009 NCBWA District III Player of the Year, was a finalist for the Golden Spikes Award, a semifinalist for the Dick Howser Trophy and a member of the ABCA All-South Region team. The Orlando native hit .358 with 28 home runs and 81 RBI for the Crimson Tide. He led the SEC in home runs, RBI, total bases (174) and slugging percentage (.883). He was also third in runs scored (65) and sixth in hitting.

Matthes set the Alabama single-season record with 28 home runs, which tied for the national home run lead with Middle Tennessee State's Bryce Brentz. Matthes is the fifth NCAA statistical national champion in school history. He broke the Alabama single-season home run record with his 28th home run against South Carolina on May 20 at the SEC Tournament. He slugged his 27th home run of the season in the Tide's regular season finale at Auburn on May 16 to tie Doug Duke's record set in 1986.

The 2009 home run barrage from Matthes included four multi-home run games and one walk-off home run while 16 of his 28 home runs tied the game or gave Alabama the lead (10 go-ahead home runs). He also had nine game-winning RBI in 2009.

Matthes also set the Alabama record with a home run in six straight games and twice was named National and SEC Player of the Week. He hit for the cycle on Feb. 24 against Nicholls State and followed with a walkoff 10th inning home run the next day.

Drafted by the Colorado Rockies in the fourth round of the 2009 MLB Amateur Draft, Matthes was named the 2011 California League's Most Valuable Player for the Class A Modesto Nuts after an outstanding season at the plate. He finished the 2011 season with a .334 average, 23 home runs, 39 doubles and 95 RBI.

Matthes spent the 2012 season in Double-A, playing for the Tulsa Drillers where he hit .214 with 17 home runs, 18 doubles and 40 RBI. In 2013, Matthes opened the year in Tulsa, before being called up to Triple-A Colorado Springs for the final 47 games of the season. With the Triple-A Sky Sox, Matthes hit .297 with 11 home runs and 31 RBI.

After being claimed off waivers by the Oakland A's, the former Tide standout spent 2014 split between Double-A Midland and Triple-A Sacramento where he hit .232 (92-396) with 26 doubles, 16 home runs and 72 RBI while adding 57 runs.

SEC BASEBALL TOURNAMENT

The Southeastern Conference Baseball Tournament will be held at Hoover Metropolitan Stadium from May 19-24, 2015. This is the 18th consecutive year the tournament has been played in Hoover and the 19th time overall.

The 2015 SEC Baseball Tournament will host 12 teams for the second straight year, after increasing from 10 to 12 in 2013. Seeds 5-12 will meet in a single-elimination format on the opening day of the tournament, followed by traditional double-elimination play Wednesday-Friday, before returning to single-elimination play on Saturday and Sunday. A total of 17 games will be played over the six days.

The 12 teams will be seeded 1-12, with the two divisional champions and top four seeds guaranteed opening-round byes, with the possibility of earning another bye later in the bracket. The tournament field will include the top teams from the SEC's Eastern and Western divisions, plus 10 at-large bids, seeded 3-12 based on conference winning percentage.

The tournament began in 1977 with the first and second-place teams from the Eastern and Western divisions meeting at campus sites to determine the league's automatic bid into the NCAA Tournament. In 1986, the SEC abandoned divisional play and the top four teams in the league standings qualified for the postseason tournament at campus sites. The 1990 SEC Tournament was played at the Hoover Met, the first off-campus tournament in league history.

The format remained the same until the league expanded to 12 teams in 1992, adding Arkansas and South Carolina. In 1992, the league went back to divisional play and invited the top four teams from each division to the SEC Tournament at the Superdome in New Orleans.

The SEC instituted another change in 1993, as the league had two separate divisional tournaments over the next three years. The overall SEC champion and NCAA automatic qualifier was the team with the best conference combined winning percentage from the regular season and postseason tournaments. Alabama won the SEC Western Division tournament in Starkville in 1995, the first of three straight tournament titles for the Tide.

The 1996 and 1997 tournaments were eight-team events in Hoover and Columbus, Ga., respectively but those events introduced one-game play-ins. Prior to the expansion to 10 teams in 2012, an eight-team double-elimination format was used for 14 years (1998-2011).

Alabama is second all-time with seven SEC Tournament titles, most recently in 2003. LSU leads the way with 11 SEC Tournament championships, including back-to-back titles in 2009 and 2010. Overall, nine of the 14 SEC teams have won at least one SEC Tournament crown since 1977.

After John Cohen led Mississippi State to the tournament title in 2012, 19 different head coaches had won at least one SEC Tournament championship.

Hoover Metropolitan Stadium will host its 18th consecutive SEC Baseball Tournament in 2015, the 19th overall at the Hoover, Ala., location.

Former Alabama head coach Jim Wells and former LSU coach Skip Bertman have the most all time with six championships, while former Mississippi State head coach Ron Polk won five tournament titles. Florida has the most coaches to win the SEC Tournament with four, including Jay Bergman (1981), Jack Rhine (1982), Joe Arnold (1984, 1988 and 1991) and Kevin O'Sullivan (2011).

Alabama has been involved in the two largest championship game crowds in tournament history. The Tide's 9-3 win over Arkansas in the 1999 SEC Championship game on May 23 drew 16,165 fans, the largest crowd in tournament history and second-largest crowd in Hoover Met annals. The Tide's 6-2 win over South Carolina on May 26, 2002, drew 13,367 fans, the second-largest for a title game in tournament lore.

Hoover Met seats 10,800 for baseball, but can accommodate more than 16,000 when the patio, banquet and side grassy areas are used. The stadium also houses 12 suites and state-of-the-art dressing and training rooms. Wireless internet access was added in 2004, concourse and signage renovation was done in 2005, and finally a second-level pressbox expansion, new stadium seating and an exterior facelift in 2007 completed a $4.5 million renovation project. A new video scoreboard was added in 2008.

The SEC will keep its conference baseball tournament in suburban Birmingham through 2016.

FORMAT AND SEEDING

The 12-team tournament will consist of two six-team brackets. The two bracket winners will play in a single championship game on Sunday. Seeding for the SEC Tournament is based on each team's winning percentage during the SEC regular season. The division champions shall be automatically seeded No. 1 and No. 2, based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded No. 3 through No. 12 based on conference winning percentage. Once a team is seeded, it shall maintain that same seeded position throughout the tournament.

TIE-BREAKERS

Two-Team Tie

When two teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used (in order until the tie is broken):

1. Win-loss results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
2. If they are divisional opponents:
 - a. Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 15-game SEC division schedule).
 - b. Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 6 team, if necessary).
3. If two teams are not divisional opponents:
 - a. Win-loss record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary).
4. Coin flip by the Commissioner.

Three-Team Tie (or more)

When three or more teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used (in order until the tie is broken).

Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order. Otherwise, once the three-team tie is broken, the two-team tie-breaker will be used.

1. If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
2. Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
3. If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.

CRIMSON TIDE SPORTS NETWORK

ON THE RADIO

Jim Carabin
General Manager, CTSN

Chris Stewart
Play-By-Play

Lee Tracey
Play-By-Play

All the exciting action of Alabama baseball can be heard throughout the 2015 season on the Crimson Tide Sports Network.

The baseball network is a service of Crimson Tide Sports Marketing, which is a joint venture of Learfield Communications of Jefferson City, Missouri, and International Sports Properties, based in Winston Salem, N.C. Jim Carabin serves as the network's general manager.

For the 17th consecutive season, CTSN will carry the Crimson Tide baseball games on a statewide network. The games also are available on the internet and select Southeastern Conference games will be aired on XM Satellite Radio. The network's flagship stations are in Birmingham and Tuscaloosa. Birmingham affiliates include WJOX-FM (94.5) and WJOX-AM (690). The Tuscaloosa affiliate is WDGM-FM 99.1, with backup coverage from WFFN-FM 95.3 and WTSK-AM 790.

Alabama baseball is also the topic of conversation each Monday night from 6-7 p.m. on the popular weekly call-in show "Hey, Coach!" Stewart hosts the program and chats with head coach Mitch Gaspard and Alabama players each Monday night throughout the season. The show airs live from Bob's Victory Grill in Tuscaloosa. Fans can join the program by calling toll free (877) 202.2262.

The Crimson Tide's unique 30-minute weekly sports magazine television program, "TIDETV This Week," shows highlights, interviews and previews on the Crimson Tide baseball team all season.

Chris Stewart and Lee Tracey will call the exciting action of Alabama baseball this season on the 30-plus station network.

A veteran play-by-play voice, Stewart enters his 16th season on the Tide baseball broadcasts. He is a four-time (2004, 2007, 2008 and 2009) Alabama

Sportscaster of the Year recipient by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association (NSSA).

Stewart is in his 26th year in broadcasting, with the 2014-15 men's basketball season being his 13th as the play-by-play announcer for the Crimson Tide Sports Network. In addition to his role as the voice of Crimson Tide basketball, Stewart also serves as the sideline reporter for CTSN's radio coverage of Crimson Tide football and as the television host of "The Nick Saban Show".

Prior to taking over the Alabama basketball play-by-play job, the Fairfield, Ala., native spent eight seasons as the radio announcer for Birmingham Southern College.

Stewart has done additional work for CSS, ESPN Regional, and Fox Sports South.

A 1992 graduate of the University of Montevallo, Stewart was honored with the school's 2009 Alumni Achievement Award. He is married to the former Christy Carmichael and has three children - Anne, Parker and Hudson.

Lee Tracey, a veteran sports broadcaster in Alabama, returns for his fifth season calling the action for the Alabama baseball team for CTSN.

Prior to the 2011 season, Tracey provided play-by-play for Alabama baseball two different times in the past - once in the late 1980s and again from 1992-94. He also was the radio voice of Alabama women's basketball from 1992-94.

Tracey was the producer on Alabama football broadcasts for the Crimson Tide Sports Network from 1987-90 and was the sports anchor/director for WCFT-TV in Tuscaloosa from 1994-96.

Currently, Tracey is the owner and president of TOPsports, a company he founded in 1996. TOPsports covers all Tuscaloosa area sports, including University of Alabama athletics and local high schools.
